THE ROYAL NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL AND
INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION OF QUEENSLAND

Welcome from the President

RNA competitions have been showcasing the best of the best since the first Royal Queensland Show (Ekka) in 1876.

Competitions are the heart of the Show, rewarding and recognising our exhibitors, and highlighting the vital role agriculture plays in our everyday lives.

Following the unprecedented and challenging cancellations of the 2020 and 2021 Shows we are delighted to be planning the 2022 Ekka and the successful return of all 55 competitions this year.

Despite the unfortunate late cancellation of the Ekka last year some of the competitions were able to proceed in a COVID-Safe manner. It is thanks to our amazing judges, stewards and competitors that we were able to complete at least partial judging of 24 of the 55 competitions.

Many sections of the Arts and Cookery Competitions (more than 85 percent of entries) were judged and so too were the Apiculture, School Garden, Wool, Led Steer, Prime Beef and Riders with Disability competitions.

This meant the highly coveted Champion of Show prize could still be awarded for many of our competitions. It also gave the Ekka's treasured competitors, who had spent weeks and months preparing, the opportunity to showcase their entries.

It is full-steam ahead for Ekka planning and coordination and we are delighted all 55 of our competitions will return for Ekka 2022.

Our virtual competitions will also stay, as we continue to embrace the digital age and open our competitions up to people from across Australia.

This year, the Show will be held from Saturday 6 to Sunday 14 August, running for nine days and two full weekends.

We remain committed to showcasing our wonderful agricultural traditions and look forward to bringing our exhibitors back together again to celebrate what makes Queensland great.

Good luck with your entries! We can't wait to welcome you back to this year's much-loved and dearly missed Royal Queensland Show.

Queensland Ag Shows

Agricultural shows have been part of the Australian culture since 1822 engaging, educating and entertaining the community. These Shows are strongly connected to local communities through volunteerism and the educational, competitive and cultural experiences they provide.

Agricultural shows create tangible economic and social benefits for communities and create social impact by building social capital and increasing family happiness and wellbeing.

There are 568 agricultural shows in Australia. Approximately 5.8 million people visit these shows annually.

Queensland Ag Shows plays a significant role in ensuring the sustainability and relevance of our 128 Agricultural Shows across Queensland.

Competitions such as Young Judges, Paraders, Showgirl and Rural Ambassador play a major role in bringing communities together while ensuring young rural people across Queensland get the chance to achieve a significant goal at local, regional, state and national level.

All Queenslanders have a 'general biosecurity obligation' (GBO) under Queensland's Biosecurity Act 2014 (PDF, 1.5MB). Not complying with the GBO is an offence.

This means that everyone is responsible for managing biosecurity risks that are:

- under their control and
- known about, or should reasonably be expected to know about.

Under the GBO, individuals and organisations whose activities pose a biosecurity risk must:

- take all reasonable and practical steps to prevent or minimise each biosecurity risk
- minimise the likelihood of causing a 'biosecurity event', and limit the consequences if such an event is caused

Any animal which in the opinion of the Council Stewards is not in a fit state to be exhibited may be rejected by them and debarred from competing in the class or classes for which it is entered. Any animal rejected must be removed from the Showgrounds as soon as the exhibitor is notified. No animal showing signs of any disease or illness particularly warts; ringworm and pinkeye will be allowed onto the grounds.

NSW Livestock owners can travel direct to the RNA showgrounds and check their paperwork in with QDAFF staff or RNA appointed staff on entry. QDAFF staff will then inform NSW livestock owner, in writing, that they MUST contact Kirra Yards on 07 5536 4714 and inform them of their return journey 24 hours prior to leaving the RNA showgrounds.

Exhibitors have a general biosecurity obligation to take all reasonable and practical steps to prevent or minimise the spread of cattle tick.

A biosecurity certificate, issued by an accredited certifier, will be required to accompany dairy cattle movement across the cattle tick line, moving from a property in the cattle tick infested zone onto the Showgrounds.

The RNA will continue to conduct tick inspections prior to stock entering the Showgrounds. If a live cattle tick is found on a carrier, all carriers in that consignment fail the inspection and will not be allowed entry to the Showgrounds.

The RNA will allow exhibitors to have their animals inspected on property prior to entry to the RNA grounds. All exhibitors who adopt to have their cattle inspected at home must use an accredited certifier and provide the accredited certifier details along with the treatment certificate on entry to the grounds. The RNA will employ an accredited officer for cattle tick inspection on arrival for those who did have their cattle inspected on their properties.

All exhibitors must adhere to the regulation of ticks and animals must be treated within 24 hours of travelling to the Brisbane Showgrounds. The RNA will employ an accredited officer for cattle tick inspection on arrival for those who do not treat cattle on their properties. All procedures are to be carried out within guidelines of the Bio-security Act. All National Health Declarations will be forwarded to Bio Security for their clearance/permission to compete at 2022 Royal Queensland Show. The accredited officer will also provide random tick scratching throughout the show. Any animal found with Cattle Ticks will result in the whole herd from that PIC being sent home.

No animal may enter the dairy pavilion unless they have the necessary tick free status. All relevant paper work must be handed to a representative of the RNA. Time of arrival must be advised for animals entering from infested areas on the Final Numbers form and must state details of treatment or untreated animals. Animals requiring inspection/scratching on grounds must not enter the dairy pavilion until necessary inspection has been carried out in the Wash Bay Area, or suitable area as directed by accredited inspector.

SIMMENTAL - FEATURE SHOW

Category B

To be judged on Thursday 4th August - Ring 1.

World Simmental Federation statistics put the number of Simmental cattle worldwide at over 40 million head, making them second only to Zebu in worldwide numbers.

Importation of semen into Australia commenced in April 1972 with both German and Swiss strains. In later years many Simmentals were imported through New Zealand and this, together with access to semen from North America, has expanded the gene pool to one of the largest in the world.

Since 1972, stud breeders have selected superior animals from Simmental's enormous worldwide genetic pool and coupled these genetics with selection for adaptation to Australia's wide range of environments and production systems. The Australian Simmental today has traditional red, black, simbrah and sim angus recorded in their register.

The Australian Simmental is a breed with all-round superior performance when used either as a pure breed or in crossbreeding programs. The genetics are designed to breed a better bottom line for commercial producers. Whether you're a northern tropical, or a temperate zone producer the advantages of Simmental hybrid vigour include.

- More saleable weight - 10 to 15% or 25 to 60kg
- Trimmer carcasses - less waste fat
- More muscle
- Higher yields of saleable beef
- More productive F1 females
- Earlier turnoff at desired market weight

The successful development of the Australian Simmental owes much to the skills of stud breeders in pursuing performance selection systems and selection for commercially important conformation and structural traits.
